In order to find your correct belt size, the easiest way is to measure a belt you already own. Lay the belt out flat and measure from where the tongue hits the buckle to the hole you wear it on. This measurement will be your belt size and will be the center of five holes on your new belt. If ordering by waist or pant size add one to two inches for clothing (typically with jeans you would add two inches to the waist size).

Please make sure you measure carefully, as our straps are custom made to order and are not returnable.
